

AGREEMENT BETWEEN SOLENT NEWS AGENCY AND

NAME:

I am delighted you have agreed to give your story to Solent News & Photo Agency.

Under the terms of this standard agreement, you give permission for us to negotiate with magazine, newspaper and TV editors on your behalf to secure you the best possible deal for the exclusive rights to your story.

We will endeavour to raise as much money as possible for you by sending your story to the 40 UK commissioning editors we work with and encouraging a bidding process between publications.

To allow us to do this, you agree not to sign any other contracts or speak to any other press agencies, national journalists, freelancers or women's magazines until negotiations are completed.

If you are then happy to go ahead you agree to preserve the exclusivity of the deal and not to speak to any other journalists until after the article is published.

You will have the opportunity to read your story before it is sent to a magazine or newspaper for publication and make any alterations you feel are necessary.

If you wish to maximise the money you will be paid, we agree to seek a second publication deal for you as well as international deals.

You will receive payment after your exclusive story is published in a specified woman's magazine or features page of a national newspaper, or when you have appeared on TV, usually within four to six weeks.

If you are happy to go ahead, please sign two copies, keep one for yourself and send the other back to us.

Yours sincerely,

Maggie Morgan,

Features Editor
